Mr. William Frederick Schrank, 81, a resident of Mokena since 1941, died June 26 in Silver Cross hospital following a long illness. Mr. Schrank was born October 23, 1872 in Wisner, Neb. He was united in marriage November 10, 1904, to Miss Clara Frick, of Home, Kansas. They farmed at Wisner until 1941, when he retired and moved with his family to Mokena, where they have since made their home.

Last March Mr. Schrank underwent surgery, which improved his health for a time, but when he became seriously ill last Wednesday he was removed to Silver Cross hospital.

He is survived by his widow, Clara, four sons, Walter of Tinley Park, Paul of New Lenox, Alfred, of Mokena, and Herbert of Matteson; three daughters, Mrs. Frieda Hamilton, of New Lenox, Mrs. Edna Olendorf, of Mokena and Mrs. Laura Stege, of Matteson; ten grandchildren and two great grandchildren, and a sister, Mrs. Martha Thompson of California.

MOTHER, SON
HAVE NARROW ESCAPE IN CAR

Robert Wille, 8 years old, and his mother, Mrs. Erwin Wille, of 175th street and Central ave. Tinley Park, had a frightening experience Sunday about 9 p.m. They had just returned from a fishing trip, and while removing the fish from the car, Robert turned the ignition key the wrong way, trying to turn on the radio. This started the car, and it headed for the pond on their property. Mrs. Wille tried to pull the hand brake, but it failed, and the car went into the pond. It was completely submerged, with mother and son imprisoned inside.

Mr. Wille attempted to reach them with a boat, but in the meantime Frank Smerz, Sr., a tenant, and his son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smerz, Jr., of Dover, Ohio, who are spending two weeks, with his parents went to the rescue. They were assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Palmer of Harvey, also visiting there. Mrs. Palmer dived into the water and pulled the boy out of the car, taking him to the boat, while the other rescuers removed Mrs. Wille. She had begun to swallow water. They suffered no ill effects, other than having a very bad scare. After Mr. Wille towed the car out of the water with his tractor, it was taken to the Bettenhausen & Schults garage.

Mr. and Mrs. Smerz, Jr. had just arrived in Tinley Saturday.

TO SHOW HICKORY FURNITURE AT OPEN AIR MART SUNDAY

The Lincolnwood Drive in at Lincolnwood hills, two miles east of New Lenox, will have an open air furniture mart starting Sunday, which will be open all summer. Featured and on sale will be Indiana-made hickory furniture. Hickory is one of the native hardwoods. It is so hard that when a saw bites into the wood it is not unusual to see the sparks fly. The young hickory can be bent, but it is almost impossible to break it.

Hickory furniture is very popular, not only for recreation rooms and playrooms, but for living rooms as well. It is rustic looking and comfortable, and built to stand hard usage. It is also in great demand for use on the lawn, summer cottages, resorts, motels and lodges.

The Lincolnwood Drive in will have about $2,000 worth of Five Orland Park high school girls left Tuesday morning for a two day all expense tour of Chicago. The girls, accompanied by their home economics teacher, Mrs. Hilda Geuther, were the guests of the Illinois Home Economics Association and the Illinois Chain Store Council.

The Chicago tour is the award received by members of the home economics class for participation in the high school career project, "A Glimpse into Your Future in Home Economics," which was launched last November by the Illinois Home Economics Association and the Illinois Chain Store Council. The purpose of the project was to interest more Illinois high school girls in home economics.

Fifty eight schools in the state entered in the project and Orland Park was awarded first place. Mrs. Hilda Geuther was the home making teacher who brought Orland first place.

Members of the class were asked to select five delegates to represent them on the Chicago tour. The girls chosen were Phyllis Bettenhausen of Tinley Park, Marilyn Yunker and Doris Schults, Mokena, Ann Marie Lehr and Marilyn Weingartner, Palos Park.

The tour is designed to give the students an opportunity to see leading home economists at their work. The group visited the Quaker Oats company, "What's New in Home Economics" kitchens, the diet kitchens of Presbyterian hospital, and the Sears-Roebuck department store. They were entertained at luncheon at the Hotel Sherman, had dinner and saw a miniature opera at the Kungholm, famous Swedish restaurant on Rush St. and were guests of the Don McNeill Breakfast club at the Morrison hotel.

The final session of the tour was a luncheon at Marshall Fields with executives of the Illinois Chain Store Council as hosts.

Mrs. Geuther accompanied the group. The girls will have an opportunity to review their career project work, report on their investigations of home economics, and express their opinion as to the value of the project.

ON THE 4th OF JULY

We Aim to Keep It!

"You have a republic—if you can keep it," Benjamin Franklin explained when asked what kind of government had been created at the Constitutional Convention of 1787.

At that time—166 years ago—we were a feeble nation stretched for a thousand miles along the Atlantic Coast. But we have kept our Republic through perilous years. The faint-hearted were fearful when Washington was burned by an invading army—they were fearful during the War Between the States; at the time of Chateau Thierry, and again after Pearl Harbor. But we did keep our Republic and grow into the mightiest nation on earth.

Today we face the vicious threat of World Communism, and to save our Republic we must have unity, courage, eternal vigilance, and devotion to God and country. Let us dedicate ourselves with rayerful hearts to the task.

The girl scouts and brownies were divided into six units, with 10 to 18 campers in each unit. Camp opened each morning at 9 o'clock with the flag ceremony and Scout and Brownie Promise, and at 3 p.m. all units met for the flag retreat and taps.

The planning of the camp was under the leadership of Mrs. O. V. Rowe of New Lenox and Mrs. Martin Timm of Manhattan. They were assisted by Mesdames Lloyd Berlin, T. L. Brooks, William Heidrich, Floyd Mundt, Glenna Gean, Harry Minger, George Brannon and Viola Case Zerilda Olson, Mae Goldschmidt, Mae Glade, Gloria Schoenfeldt, Gladys Beedle, Evelee Beadles, Emmalyn Hus, Mildred Minuth, Lichtenwalter, K. WHY THE PAPER
HAS BEEN LATE

The publication of our paper has been a little late for the past few weeks, and to many this may appear puzzling in view of the fact that we recently installed a new press to speed up the printing process, prevent delays and guarantee the prompt delivery of the paper. The fact is, the new press will do all these things, but before this goal is reached there may be temporary slowdowns and delays, as must be apparent to everyone who gives the matter a little thought.

The new press, running off a roll instead of being fed sheet by sheet, offers new problems to our pressmen, who, experts in the handling of the old press, must learn to master the new one, which is highly complicated but which, when once mastered, offers advantages far beyond any the old press offered.

Please understand, this is not an alibi, but rather an explanation, which may be due at this time, for the majority of our readers are unacquainted with the intricacies of the printing industry. We, therefore, hope you will bear with us for a few weeks more until our pressmen have become familiar with the mechanism and operation of the new press and have developed that adeptness which only comes with practice.

Another thing of considerable importance in getting out a new paper on time is the matter of deadlines and their strict observance. Copy and layout for all ads should be in our office by Monday morning. It takes considerable time to set these ads, especially the large ones, and delays in receiving copy quite naturally mean delays in putting the paper on the press. We must have ads in by Monday, and the deadline is Tuesday noon. This late deadline has been established for cases where unusual circumstances absolutely prevent the arrival of copy at an earlier hour.

It is our desire to accommodate our advertisers, and we know there are times when an advertiser is handicapped in getting copy and cannot meet the Monday requirement, but it is our duty to set the standard. At times we are borne in mind that ads received here later than Monday work a hard ship on our force and may delay the production of the paper thus inconveniencing all of our subscribers. So, every effort should be made to get copy to us on Monday, or even earlier.

It pertains not only to advertisers but to news items as well. We want the news to come in Friday and Saturday for the following week. Last week, for example, we were compelled to leave out a number of news stories that were called in to us on happening of the previous week. We dislike to hold over material of this kind, but when the forms are made up we have no other choice. We cannot very well tear a form down and stop the presses for a news story that comes in late, unless it is very urgent and important. If it is urgent and cannot very well be held over we will do everything in our power to get it in the current issue.

We wish it understood that we do not want people to refrain from calling in late urgent news items, such as deaths or an accident, even at the eleventh hour, and suggest they leave it to our judgment as to whether or not it makes the current issue. We may be able to handle it, and again, we may not. In any event, phone in the news and let us make the decision.

"Arkie" To Be At Frankfort July 12

By vocation he is a radio entertainer; by avocation, a weather prophet, palm reader and a dog trainer. Such is the forward for the Arkansas Woodchopper, who is coming to the Firemen's Picnic at Frankfort July 12.

The Woodchopper, or "Arkie" as he is generally known to radio audiences, is a veteran performer on station WLS, Chicago, who, at present is celebrating his eighteenth year as a master of ceremonies, singer and musician.

Arkie is a real man of the soil, having been born in Knobnoster, Mo. where he learned all about soil, woodchopping, and farming, before moving on to Arkansas to continue the same pursuits. He learned to predict weather conditions by studying from day to day wind directions, temperature changes at sunrise and sunset, signs of the moon, etc. He says he had to know such things on a farm, so he learned his prediccin' and has followed it through as a hobby. Having his palms read by palm readers galore, and learning something about the art for himself at every reading, he perfected his own method and is "passable" at it.

Arkie, in addition to pinching for other artists, appears on the "Smile A While," "Dinner Bell" and "Merry Go Round" programs, and on the "National Barn Dance," he has a variety of assignments. He sings to his own guitar accompaniment, plays banjo and fiddle calls the square dances, and even indulges in a bit of rustic comedy.

Following the ceremony, a wedding dinner was served at Murphy's restaurant in Rome. His only brother, Leo of New Lenox, died about 2 weeks ago. For the past 30 years he has lived in Homer, most of this time having been spent on the farm on Homer road which was his present home. Recently he and his son have done excavating as well as farming.

Funeral services were held Monday morning from the Fred Dames funeral home at 3:30 in St. John's church at 9 o'clock with burial in St. John's cemetery.

MARILYN WELSCH WEDS
G. WALTERS

Miss Marilyn Jean Welsch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Welsch, of Joliet, was married to Gerald G. Walters, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Walters, of Peotone, Saturday, June 27, in St. John's English Lutheran church in Joliet, at 7 p.m. The bride was given in marriage by her father who is well known in Mokena and New Lenox, where he operates the Welsch Lumber and Supply Company.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. William J. Boldt. At the conclusion of the service before the final benediction, the young couple received communion. Organist was Joyce Giegerich, cousin of the bride who played "Dedication," "O h Perfect Love," "Wedding Prayer" and "Entreat Me Not to Leave Thee."

Pews for the families were decorated with bouquets of cascade ribbons and white gladioli and the church was decorated with baskets of white gladioli, carnations and schiffelars.

The bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace bodice with long tapering sleeves, and Queen Ann lace collar, with an illusion neckline. The skirt was nylon tulle, with train. Her headpiece was a beaded coronation tiara with fingertip French illusion veil, and she carried a white Bible covered with white orchid and stamens.

Maid of honor Miss Mary Ann Hagmeyer, wore a chantilly lace bodice dress with drop shoulder of nylon net and nylon net waltz length skirt, and a white veil, studded with rhinestones. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and ivy. The bridesmaid, Carol Wilkey, was dressed identically to the maid of honor.

Best man was Donald Walters, brother of the groom, with ushers David Friend, David Kallal fraternity brothers of the groom.

The bride's mother wore a rose mauve silk organza dress with white and navy accessories. The groom's mother wore a dior blue antique silk shantung dress, with white and navy accessories.

For her going away costume the bride chose a pale blue suit dress, trimmed with jewels, a white French hat and white accessories.

The new Mrs. Walters attended Joliet Township high school and the University of Illinois, where she received a degree in musical education. Mr. Walters attended Peotone community high school, and received a degree in physical education at the University of Illinois.

About 400 guests attended the reception, which was held in the church parlors following the services. The reception hall was decorated with Schefflera green and the bridal table was lovely with two lighted silver candelabra. Centered on it was a five-tier wedding cake adorned with blue flowers. Serving the cake were Miss Barbara Stimson, of Gary, Ind., and Miss Marie Fischer, of Berwyn.

The punch table, which had a coffee urn at the opposite end, was centered with blue delphinium, large white and yellow daisies, and white tapers in crystal holders. Miss Joyce Nesmith of Chicago and Mrs. Roger Blake of Peotone served the punch. Dispensing the coffee were Miss Meline Pilbosian, of Waukegan, Mrs. Shirley Landry, a University of Illinois student, and Mrs. Arthur Hicks, of Joliet. The guest book was in charge of Mrs. Arthur Hicks of Joliet, and Mrs. Ray John, a cousin of the bride, also of Joliet.

The young couple went on a northern trip.

While Franklin Christiansen of Frankfort, was burning some rubbish on his vacant lot in Frankfort Tuesday evening, about 6:15, a light gust of wind carried up a burning ember and picked it to the roof of the garage of Clarence Waldvogel, next door. Old wooden shingles covered the roof of the garage and when the burning ember landed, there was an instant burst of flame. The Frankfort Fire department was called and responded at once, and in the meantime neighbors formed a bucket brigade, which was of great help in keeping the fire under control until arrival of the fire truck.

Mr. Waldvogel drives the milk trucks for the Capital dairy. The trucks were not in the garage, but his car was. It was not damaged, however. About $150 damage was done to the garage.

Waldvogels live on Oak street immediately south of the school. Had this fire gotten out of control it would have undoubtedly caused widespread damage, as it was in a thickly populated section of the village. This brings into prominence the value and importance of a good fire department.

Fined For Speeding On Mokena Streets

For a number of weeks a red automobile has been using Front street in Mokena as a race track and this continued until police chief Whitney Carter caught up with the driver, Donald Santerelli, 16, of Lockport. He was arrested for reckless driving and speeding on the streets of Mokena at 3 o'clock Thursday morning.

He was kept in the county jail overnight. Later that day he was brought before Justice of the Peace Anthony Mackay. A fine of $10 and $5 costs was imposed. A stern lecture accompanied the fine, which was also imposed on two other youthful speeders.

The Santerelli boy when arrested said he had been told by some Mokena boys that Front street in Mokena was a good place to do some speeding at an early hour.

A. KRUSEMARK
MADE PUBLIC
ADMINISTRATOR

Atty. Albert H. Krusemark, Jr. of Frankfort has been appointed public administrator for Will county. He is a member of the law firm of Krusemark and Krusemark, of Mokena, a Republican, succeeds Edwin W. Long, a Democrat, who held the office since December 1949.

Gov. William G. Stratton named Krusemark for the post, and the nomination was approved by the senate last week. A public administrator acts as counsel in the estate of persons who die leaving no wills and for whom no relative or interested party petitions the probate court for appointment of an administrator. Remuneration depends on the number and size of the estates settled.

Mr. Krusemark began the practice of law with his father in the law firm of Krusemark and Krusemark shortly after being admitted to the bar in October, 1938. His father died several years ago, and since that time Mr. Krusemark has continued in the practice of law with Attorney Louis Bertani as associate.

Mr. Krusemark was born in Frankfort, having attended the schools there. He graduated from Joliet township high school in 1932 and received a scholarship to the Joliet Junior college. Later he received a B. A. degree at the University of Illinois law school, from which he was graduated in 1938.

He is present of the Frankfort bank, and also president of the recently organized high school district No. 210, which includes New Lenox, Frankfort and a part of Manhattan township. He is also G. O. P. committeeman at Frankfort.

Mr. Krusemark is a member of the Will County Bar Assn., the Illinois Bar association, the American Judicature, the University club and the Lions International. He lives in Frankfort with his family.

Injured When Arm
Catches in Wringer

Mrs. Gilbert Hurley of Mokena was washing Monday morning when, somehow or other, as she was feeding clothes thru the wringer, her hand was drawn in. Before she realized what to do in this emergency, her hand was drawn in up to her elbow. Then she hit the safety release and freed herself.

She was taken to the Hedges clinic where x-rays showed no bones were broken, although her arm was badly swollen, discolored and painful.

season for me to make a comprehensive forecast of the 1953 crop prospects, there are a few highlights that may be of interest. But, first, I can say that as of June 1 the outlook for most of the country was fairly good. Another Bumper Wheat Crop Wheat crops of a billion bushels or more have been commonplace in this country during recent years. The 1953 crop should be no exception to the rule, notwithstanding the very poor outlook in certain dry sections. Things would look brighter for the wheat farmer if the total crop were smaller, since storage space at the peak of the harvesting season will be at a premium. This will make it difficult, if not impossible, for some farmers to avail themselves of the Government loan. Supplies of old crop wheat are also heavy. This all adds up to a burdensome total supplies for the 1953-54 season, and may well presage some form of Government control on 1954 production. I expect another relatively small rye crop this year, perhaps moderately larger than the 1952 outturn of 15,910,000 bushels, but well below the ten-year average of 25,337,000 bushels. However, it should suffice, since imports from Canada probably will take up any slack. Despite floods and other setbacks in the southern rice area, another big crop is on the way, and will be needed to meet a good prospective domestic and export demand.

Good Corn and Soybean Crops—If Last spring, farmers indicated that they intended to plant almost as much acreage to corn this year as in 1952, when the final outturn amounted to 3,307,000,000 bushels—the second largest corn crop on record. Although excessive rainfall and cool weather delayed plantings in a number of important areas, the setback has been largely made up. Given favorable growing weather and no widespread frost damage later on, we should have another big crop this year. This should be good news to hog raisers, since it should help to maintain a profitable corn-hog ratio.

In the case of soybeans, I have very little as yet on which to base a reliable forecast. However, private reports reaching me indicate that planted acreage this year did not differ very much from that in 1952, and that the crop is developing well. Last year's production amounted to 291,682,000 bushels—the second largest on record. Both soybeans and corn are marketed more or less heavily in the fall. For lack of storage place at that time, I expect downward pressure on prices of corn and soybeans.

Cotton Prospects At this early stage, I would not hazard a forecast as to the probable size of the 1953 U. S. cotton crop. Plantings were badly delayed in some sections by inclement weather, but my guess is that cotton farmers finally got in a fairly large acreage, nevertheless. The price support program alone offered them a good inducement to plant rather generously. I should not be at all surprised if this year's crop turned out to be well above average, barring severe weevil or other damage. Following a big carryover, another large crop would necessitate more price support.

Flaxseed is another oilseed crop. The odds are that a fairly large crop is in the offing, since farmers last spring expected to increase acreage 20%. I am inclined to doubt, however, that the final outturn will come up to the ten year average of 38,056,000 bushels. Large carryover stocks are in Government hands, chiefly in the form of linseed oil.

What About Future Prices? Prices of farm products have been declining for more than two years. In fact, they are down 12.8% from January, 1951, but still are 3.6% above June 1950—the month in which the Korean War began. This drop occurred despite Government price props. Continued large production, dwindling exports, and mounting surpluses are a combination hard to beat. Thus again is the old Law of Supply and Demand confirmed. Farm prices, in general, will be under pressure this summer and fall, but I don't expect them to collapse. Farmers should still be able to buy all that they need, although perhaps less than they want, which may prove salutary in the long run.

Christian Science Churches That the all-knowing Mind, manifest in infinite wisdom and omnipresent good, is ever available to man for his health and happiness, will be explained in all Churches of Christ, Scientist on Sunday, July 5. The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be God.

The Golden Text is from I Kings (8:23): "Lord God of Israel, there is no God like thee, in heaven above, or on earth beneath, who keepest covenant and mercy with thy servants that walk before thee with all their heart."

Bible selections (King James Version) in the Lesson-Sermon include:

"All nations whom thou hast made shall come and worship before thee, O Lord; and shall glorify thy name. For thou art great, and doest wondrous things thou art God alone" (Ps. 86:9, 10).

Selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include: "God is what the Scriptures declare Him to be—Life, Truth, Love. Spirit is divine Principle, and divine Principle is Love, and Love is Mind, and Mind is not both good and bad, for God is Mind, therefore there is in reality one Mind only, because there is one God (p. 330).

TIPS ON FEEDING THE TRAVELING BABY

Having a baby in the house is no reason for being house-bound these days. With a few precautions and some careful planning—plus the baby conveniences now offered by certain travel lines—a trip can be fun for mother, baby, and even the fellow passengers!

First step, if the baby is on formula, is to check your doctor about switching to evaporated milk or dried whole milk (easy to carry with you and make up as needed). Better make any change a week or so before you leave, so the baby can get used to the new taste.

Plan to travel in the middle of the week—more chance of finding an empty seat next to you for the baby. Also, the hostess or conductor can give you more time and attention.

Before you start, ask what baby services your travel line offers. For example, Colonial Air Lines, on its Bermuda and Canada runs, serves on-the-house menus of Strained Baby Foods from the Beech-Nut Packing Company. Choices include Chicken Soup or Vegetable and Beef Soup; Strained Carrots or Garden Vegetables; and, for dessert, Strained Peaches or Strained Bananas. Only thing you need to carry is the baby's formula. It's kept in a cooler, warmed at mealtime.

If you're traveling by train or car, take along jars of food the baby likes best—nothing new, nothing he has trouble digesting. Expect him to eat less than at home—there's so much going on, and don't forget a spoon, a opener, disposable bibs.

Keep Insects Out Of Stored Grain

Get the best price you can for your stored grain by keeping insects from eating up the profits after you have binned it.

H. B. Petty, extension entomologist at the Illinois College of Agriculture, says you won't get much weevil damage in the field. Most of it occurs during storage.

Pockets of old grain from last year's harvest in your combine are the first source of insect contamination. It's a good idea to save the first few bushels run thru the combine for livestock feed and not mix it with grain for storage.

Cracks in the beds of trucks or wagons may also be sources of insect contamination. For effective control, spray the beds with 2 pounds of 50% wettable methoxychlor powder in 5 gallons of water to the point of run off.

Before you store your grain, clean up around the bin, sweep it out and burn all refuse. Then spray the bin with the same mixture as is recommended for the wagon beds. At present you can use wettable DDT powder bin sprays instead of methoxychlor if you wish.

If you plan to store wheat for a month or more, fumigate with a grain fumigant within three weeks after binning. Use between 4 and 8 gallons of fumigant for each 1,000 bushels of grain. Use higher amounts of fumigant on small amounts of grain in a bin, on the less air-tight bins and when grain temperatures are extremely high.

Or you can avoid rehandling the grain if you treat your stored wheat with one of the activated pyrethrin protectants at the time you put it into the bin. Add pyrethrin protectant to the wheat either as it comes from the combine into the wagon or as it streams into the bin.

Adjust Combine Right, Save Grain

If your wheat or oat crop is heavier than usual this year you may leave from five to ten percent of it in the field.

Wendell Bowers, extension farm machinery specialist at the Illinois College of Agriculture, says you can cut that loss if you are careful in adjusting and operating your combine.

Heavy straw may double your losses if you try to drive too fast or cut too low on the stalks. Drive slow enough not to stall the cylinder on your combine down below its rated speed. Then cut the grain just below the nodding heads.

Keep losses low by adjusting your combine according to the owner's manual. If the cylinder speed is too fast or the concave clearance is too small, the result will be some cracked kernels.

On the other hand, you may lose a lot of grain by failing to separate the grain from the heads if your cylinder speed is too slow or the concave clearance is too great. Adjust the air blast equally on both sides of the combine. Have it just strong enough to lift the chaff off the front of the screens and drop it so that it clears the rear of the screen as it falls to the ground.

Dirty grain may result from having the screens opened too much you may have a heavy loss of grain behind the combine if they are closed too much.

In weedy grain fields, pay particular attention to the screen and fan adjustment, and be careful not to go too fast.

For more information on how to reduce your grain harvest losses, write to the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, Urbana, for a free copy of "Harvesting with Combines."

LETTING OFF STEAM

ONE OF THE FACTORS OF STABILITY IN OUR DEMOCRACY IS THE FREEDOM TO "LET OFF STEAM"—THE OPPORTUNITY EACH OF US HAS TO LESSEN THE PRESSURES OF LIVING IN OUR INDIVIDUAL FASHIONS.

FREEDOM TO SPEAK OUR MINDS IS A BASIC ELEMENT IN THIS, BUT FREEDOM TO CHOOSE OUR AVOCATIONS, AS WELL AS OUR VOCATIONS, IS PART OF IT. WE AMERICANS, THROUGH OUR INITIATIVE, INDUSTRY AND THRIFT, HAVE STEADILY BROADENED OUR OPPORTUNITIES FOR PLAY. IN RECOGNITION OF THE INDIVIDUAL'S NEED TO "LET OFF STEAM," WE HAVE MADE TIME OFF FROM THE JOB—AN ANNUAL VACATION—A GENERAL PRACTICE IN OUR DEMOCRACY.

Skimping on Plant Food Can Cut Yields, Reduce Farm Profits

PINCHING pennies on seed, lime and fertilizer is false economy at any time, but especially when farm prices are dropping, reports the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee. The farmer who postpones liming, skips on needed fertilizer or uses cheaper seed is inviting lower profits.

Farm economists point out that this skimping can well cut the acre yields and thus be an expensive saving. For it is not so much the investment per acre that determines profits, but the cost per bushel or ton of the farm crop produced.

By using fertilizer to increase the acre yields, the fixed cost of production is spread over more bushels to give a greater margin between the cost and the selling price.

Lack of fertilizer caused thin, spindly growth in center row.

Here's how it works in corn, according to research statistics. The first 40 bushels of corn per acre go to cover cost of production most anywhere in the Middle West. Average yields of about 50 bushels give a bare 10 bushels for profit. But when the use of fertilizer boosts yields by 30 bushels or more, these extra bushels mean a high profit and a low cost.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Leon, Gto., Mex. June 13
Chihuahua City, Mexico
Perhaps one of the most attractive cities in Mexico is the State Capital of Chihuahua, of the State of the same name. It is a symbol of Mexico's progress and is, in effect, one of Mexico's most progressive cities. In addition, Chihuahua City is a city that offers many attractions to the foreign visitor.
The state capital of Chihuahua is not one of the largest cities in the country, from the viewpoint of population and area. However the city of Chihuahua has shown more progress than other cities which have been in the news or spotlight time and again.

Chihuahua City is one of the most beautiful cities in Mexico, rich in large mansions and state buildings erected during the latter part of the 18th and thru out the 19th centuries. It is popular knowledge that the Chihuahua City has the greatest number of millionaires in proportion to its population of all Mexican cities.
The wealth of Chihuahua City offers an other contrast with the poor condition of the Tarhumaras who live in the mountains near the city.

The Tarahumaras are one of the most backward groups of population in Mexico, resisting the advance of civilization and living much as their forefathers did many centuries ago.
Chihuahua City, is the economic nerve center of the State and of a wide area of Northern Mexico. Most mining, cattle and cotton transaction involving products from the rest of the state are conducted in this city.
The main square of Chihuahua City is some thing of a minor version of Wall street in New York, with banking institutions lining the square's streets.
In addition branches from almost every large bank of Mexico City are located on the square.

The inauguration in 1951 of the Mexico City to Juarez highway brought added importance to Chihuahua City, which is becoming a popular stop over city for persons driving from the U. S. to Mexico City.
Chihuahua City was founded in 1539, only a few years after the Spaniards concluded their conquest of the Aztec Empire of Tenochtitlan in 1521. It is today the largest state of the Republic of Mexico, and one of the wealthiest.

Millions of dollars worth of silver have been extracted from the rich mines in the state of Chihuahua. The discovery of silver in the early years of Mexico's colonial history attracted hundreds of families of settlers to Chihuahua.
Chihuahua is also an important cotton producing area, with the most important cotton zone located in the vicinity of Jimenez, not far from the State Capital. Another source of wealth in the State is found in the vast timber areas of Chihuahua which cover entire mountains. Many of these forests have never been touched by the lumberman's axe. In addition to the large pine areas, the State is known for its forests of white cedar, white birch and live oak.
The State of Chihuahua is also one of the most important cattle states in the country, with most of the cattle business centered in the City of Chihuahua where ranchers, boasting their ten gallon hats and high heeled boots, make up part of the city's resident population.

The wide plains and dense mountain forests make Chihuahua a real hunter's paradise. In addition its many lagoons are used as winter quarters for geese and other migratory birds. Hundreds of sportsmen visit Chihuahua during the winter when these birds settle down to live in these surroundings for the winter months.
Next week, the ghost town of Marfil and the tombs of Guana Juato.

Commonwealth and Public Service Ask For Rate Increase

Commonwealth Edison company has asked for the first general rate increase in its 66-year history. In the case of the average residential electric customer of Edison and its Public Service Company division (who uses 161 kilowatt-hours a month) it would amount to approximately 50 cents a month.
The company filed new rate schedules with the Illinois Commerce Commission fixing increases approximating $16,450,000 annually for its 1,725,000 electric customers in Chicago and northern Illinois. The schedules also provide increases amounting to $2,900,000 for the 435,000 gas customers outside Chicago served by Public Service. The amounts are based on operation for the twelve months ended April 30, 1953.
The electric and gas rate increases would each average about 6 1/2 per cent.
Against its 66-year history of no general rate increases, Edison has had 26 electric rate reductions. Public Service had two increases resulting from the inflation of World War I as against 37 electric rate reductions and important gas rate reductions during its 42 year corporate history.

Willis Gale, chairman, said the revenue increases are necessary to offset higher costs and preserve the company's credit. This is vital as the company must raise $230,000,000 of new capital in the next four years, he added. Edison is spending $500,000,000 on new construction from 1953 thru 1956 to meet the growing needs of the area.

Home Bureau Holds Its Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Home Bureau of this section of the county was held June 23 at the Green Garden town hall, with the Frankfort-Mokena unit as hostess. The six Home Bureau groups attending were Frankfort-Mokena, Green Garden, Jackson, Manhattan, Busy Homemakers of Frankfort, and New Lenox. It was their first meeting with the new Home Advisor, Miss Kay Anderson, who was formerly assistant advisor.
The individual units held their short business meetings, after which all met together for the major lesson, which was given by Miss S. Wilson, a representative of Sears, Roebuck and Company in several states. The lesson was on Foundation Garments. Mrs. M. Werner of Manhattan demonstrated the minor lesson on How Corsets are Made.

HOLSTEIN SHOW AT MAZON 7-14

The Kankakee District Black and White show will be held this year at the Grundy County Fair ground at Mazon Tuesday, July 14, starting at 10:00 o'clock.
Judging the show this year will be Nelson McCannan of Cary.
Twenty different classes where animals can be exhibited are found in the various announcements.
It's expected that a good many exhibitors from Will county will take some of their purebred Holsteins to this show. Detailed information can be secured at the offices of the Will County Farm Bureau in Joliet.

Snip 'N Snack 4-H

The Green Garden Snip 'N Snack club held a meeting at the Green Garden town hall on June 18.
The president, Marlene Schwiesow, opened the meeting by asking Ruth Rainford to lead in the pledge to the flag. After the pledges, Joyce Scheer led in some singing.

New members added were Ruth Ann Rainford, Sharon Ann Utte, Joyce Heisner, Joanna Schult, Janet Johnson, and Barbara Smego. The induction ceremony was under direction of Marlene Schwiesow, Carol Ullrich, Frances Kurima and Phyllis Rosendahl.

A poem was read by Donna Elberts and talks were made by Sharon Fehland, Judy Osmus, Carolyn Krapf, Janet Voight, Evelyn Diment, Joyce Heisner, Wilma Schult, Joann Burmeister, Janet Johnson, Jean Kurima, Ruth Rainford, Barbara Scheer, Bette Stassen, Patty Sass, Shirley Smit, Barbara Smego, Kathryn Ullrich, Judy Osmus, Marianne Weiland, Marlene Gill, Ruth Stassen, Anne Lehnert, Norma Burmeister, Phyllis Rosendahl and Beverly Bettenhausen.

Demonstrations were made by Sharon Fehland, Carolyn Krapf, Bonnie Beverly and Patricia Torok, Francis Kurima, Patty Sass and Marlene Schwiesow.

A paper drive will be held later in the summer. Next meeting will be held July 9 at the town hall. —Francis Kurima, Publicity.

Soil Experiment Field Meeting

One of the most important field meetings of the year will be held on Friday afternoon, July 3, at the Joliet Soil Experiment Field, according to Wayne Churchill, Farm Adviser.
It's unfortunate that the meeting falls at a busy time of year, but farmers who will take three hours time off from their busy farm schedule to attend will secure ideas which will enable them to greatly increase their farm production.

Al Lang, who is well known to farmers throughout Illinois, will be present to discuss experiments being conducted on the field, and results which have been secured.
The meeting will get under way at 1:30 pm. This field is located on the south side of Rte. 30 approximately 1 mile northwest of the Joliet city limits.

Under The Cross Of Malta

NB Under the Cross standing.
At our last regular Post meeting, Thursday evening June 25, a fair number of members were present. Aside from the regular routine of business, the post is planning to sponsor a dance in the near future. Commander Hurley appointed a committee to plan and direct the affair. Definite details will be published in the News-Bulletin soon.
Past Department Commander Carl Rosenbaum and State VFW Commander for last year, dropped into our club last Wednesday evening and spent a couple of hours with the boys. He has been a VFW member more than 30 years, a real VFW booster.

We do not need to tell all you folks that we have been having some real warm days and evenings lately, to get away from the heat we invite you to visit our club some evening and enjoy the comfortable cool air. We really have the coolest spot in this vicinity.

The next regular Post meeting will be July 8, 9 pm. All members try and be present. —Glenn C. Peterson, Publicity.

Fireworks Co. Fire Will Not Stop B. I. Celebration

There will be fireworks in Blue Island on the evening of July 4th despite the fact that the displays intended for Blue Island were destroyed in the fire in the Melrose Park Fireworks company Friday night, June 26.
Lloyd C. Holmlin, general chairman of the Blue Island Lions club July 4 celebration, states that Tony Guarino, owner of the Melrose Park Fireworks company, has promised to fulfill his Blue Island commitment but the display may not be as elaborate as planned due to the destruction of the set pieces.

Everything else on Blue Island's program is all set.

Expect Heavier Toll On July 4 Weekend

In Cook County over the July 4 weekend, a traffic toll of 6 fatalities and 210 personal injuries is predicted by Chas. M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor Club.
Prospects of a heavier toll than 1952 stem from increased car registrations, heavier traffic volumes, and higher current accident rates, Hayes said.

Two factors may reduce the estimated traffic toll:
1. Many Chicago plants and factories are observing a two-week holiday beginning June 26. This may relieve holiday congestion by spreading the holiday travel over several more days. Many workers may return before the holiday weekend and stay home.
2. Motorists may need the warnings of safety leaders, as they apparently did at Memorial Day this year, and sharply reverse the predicted toll.

The following safety programs recommended for surviving a motor trip during the holiday period was outlined by Hayes:
1. Avoid night driving because two-thirds of traffic deaths occur at night.
2. Get extra rest and allow larger margin of driving error in following and passing other cars. Control speeds at intersections, rail crossings, bridge approaches and other dangerous points.
3. Condition the car by checking brakes, windshield wipers, tires and lights.

4. Avoid driving if possible during peak periods of traffic movements, especially Friday afternoon and Sunday evening.

GLIDING DOORS!

Ceiling-high gliding doors are the homemaker's answer to better use of closet space. They can be installed easily in apartments, new or old houses. Underneath the gay wallpaper in the doors shown are sturdy, steady and strong panels of Masonite Tempered Preswood. Instead of this decor, the homemaker may have them painted, enameled, lacquered or varnished. Gliding doors are the modern treatment for closets and storage walls.

God Is Righteous

Lesson for July 5, 1953

MAYBE it is because righteous is not a singable word. (Is there any rhyme for it?) Maybe it is because the word has a hard ring to it in some ears. It seems to suggest something rigid and un-benign, like a poker or a fence-post. Anyway, for some reason or other, we do not hear much about God's being righteous. Words like "love" or "mercy" are used more often. We hear of the high and holy God, the almighty, or we hear of the loving Father of all. But we do not hear often enough of the God who first and last and always is the righteous God.

A Righteous God Or None

The Bible's God is a righteous God. But the writers of the Bible did not shiver when they wrote that word. They did not believe and tremble, they believed and were glad. In fact, nobody who gives the question the serious thought it deserves would be interested in God if he were not righteous. An un-righteous God would be no God at all but a kind of devil. Righteousness means being right, first of all. It means seeing things as they are, seeing past the surface to the heart of things. No one who sees men and character dimly or crookedly can be righteous.

But righteousness is more than being right. It means being right-in-action. It includes being just and fair, though it is more than that, too. Some one might be fair because the rules compelled him to be. He might be fair to others so that they in turn would be fair to him. Righteousness means not only justice in act, but justice in desire. It means the love of justice and not only the practice of it. Righteousness—the Bible word—in addition means dependability. The original meaning of the word was simply "straight."

Justice For All

God is like man in one respect. His actions speak louder than his words. The writers of the Bible, Old Testament and New, more often speak of God's righteous acts than of his righteous words. It remained for the Apostle Paul to sum up the case for God's righteousness. It is shown, he says—demonstrated, that is to say—in two ways. These two ways are enlarged on in the early chapters of Romans as well as elsewhere in Paul's writings.

First of all, the justice of God expresses His righteousness. God is no "responder of persons;" in other words, He plays no favorites. Paul's own people, the Jews, had misunderstood what it meant to be the "chosen" people. They had supposed it meant they were God's favorites, though the prophets had long tried to explain that "chosen" meant chosen for service, appointed. Some people today think that "Nordics" or Americans or some other group is God's chosen people. His favorites. His pets so to speak. No, the Bible teaching is that in God's sight all men stand on an equal footing.

Redemption For All

If this were all that could be said, we of the human race would be in a hopeless hole. As Paul shows, the fact that God treats all men alike in the long run, is no comfort at all; it only means that the verdict "Guilty" must be pronounced on us all. Comparing what we are with what we ought to be, not even we ourselves can honestly say much for ourselves. If God's righteousness were nothing but an even-handed justice, it would be a searing flame. But it is more. The other way God shows His righteousness is in His mercy, in His coming to us in Christ. He has made salvation—that is, the setting-free from the deadly whirling wheel of sin and destruction—He made this free to all. He forces mercy on no one. But if He offered mercy and forgiveness only to a selected few—or for that matter, only to a selected many—then while He might be called merciful He could hardly be called righteous. If God saved everyone, regardless He would still not be righteous. He saves those who have faith, that is, those who humbly accept what they realize they can never earn—the transforming love of God. For one of the glorious things about God is that He is not only righteous—He shares His righteousness.

Comments From The Bench

by Ruth & Ruth

This week's comments are going to be short and not so sweet. Cloudy skies prevailed Thursday evening, as our Frankfort Girls Softball team took to the field in the first inning of their game with the Ingalls Park girls of Joliet.

Manager Doll and his gabby crew started out fast with two hits, a grounder good for an out, an infield fly, another hit and then the next batter popped up. Result—two runs scored.

In Frankfort's half of the inning, Anna Lackner started off with a hit, stole second and scored later on LaVerle Mackey's single to right field. The Frankfort girls slow start was possibly due to the fact that they were playing their first game before their home people and probably were a little overanxious to do their best.

In the second, the Jolietians tallied two more runs, putting together two hits and an error for life achievement.

With two out in their half of the second, Frankfort's fairies started clicking, bunching to get two hits and an error to score two additional runs.

Just as the third inning was beginning, the weatherman's predictions for the day came true—showers. Rain was falling sparsely, but that didn't dampen Ingalls Park's hitting ability, for they scored another two runs. As Frankfort's half of the inning rolled around, rain was falling harder and Manager Reuben Borms along with the umpires, called a halt to the proceedings and the game is to be played at a later date.

Once again this week, we say thanks, and our salute goes to Sue Fitzgerald and Edith O'Connor of Manhattan, who filled in for our vacationing regulars.

So that's it for this week, and let's hope that next week, the weatherman will be a little more congenial.

Tinley Small Fry Drop One, Go Into Tie for 1st Place

Tinley small fry 1-14 Sport pg. Frankfort came to Tinley Park Friday, June 26 and returned home with a six to four victory. This setback dumped Tinley into a percentage point tie, with Beecher for the league lead. Frankfort took a four run lead in the first inning without a hit. Two bases on balls and three errors by Tinley's infield made this possible. This was a lead that Tinley never overcame.

Fertile Soil Saves More Rain for Crops, Builds Greater Yields at Lower Costs

Water that ponds or runs off is the same as water lost.

FIVE steps to save more rain for farm crop use were cited by the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee, in a statement issued here.

The committee points out that efficient water use is becoming more important to farm profits in view of predictions by weather forecasters that the Corn Belt may be in for a long range dry cycle.

Here are the committee's suggestions:
1—Protect the soil surface with cover crops. That will prevent beating rains from sealing over the surface. Water will soak in instead of running away.

2—Keep the soil well structured with well-fertilized tap-rooted legumes in the rotation. That will let in more water quickly into the whole soil profile.

3—Keep the soil fertile with chemical nutrients. This will help you produce more pounds of crop per acre inch of water.

4—Keep the soil rough during winter. That will hold snow in place and enable water to soak in during spring thaws.

5—Handle organic matter so it will give the greatest good to the soil. Rot it quickly by providing nitrogen, phosphate and other plant nutrients to increase the soil's population of beneficial organisms.

"All these practices," says the committee, "will increase the amount of water available to crops on your fields. They will provide more water for greater yields at a lower cost per acre."

Five Million Dollar More Possible For Will Co. Farmers

If all owners and operators of Will County farms would have followed similar practices as have been carried on at the Joliet Soil Experiment field, operated under the supervision of the University of Illinois, Will County farmers would have had an additional $5,000,000 income from crops sold in the county in 1950.

The average per acre production for Will County over a period of years is about 50 bushels of corn, 22 bushels of soybeans, 50 bushels of oats, and 25 bushels of wheat per acre.

On the Joliet Field, fertilizers have been made to work efficiently in producing 90 bushels of corn, 35 bushels of soybeans, 70 bushels of oats, and 34 bushels of wheat per acre. Rotations used are adapted to both grain and livestock systems of farming.

Marcel Halik was ill with summer flu all last week, he has returned to work this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Korggaard and family attended a family reunion of her family at her brother's farm near Gardner. It was a combination reunion and celebration of Mrs. Korggaard's mother's 74th birthday. There were 26 great grand children, 10 grand children, six daughters and three sons, and many other relatives present. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Korggaard are taking care of their two grand children while their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Vance are away in Peoria on business.

Mr. U. S. Madden has been ill for some time and has had x-rays taken. We hope it is nothing serious, Steve.

Mr. and Mrs. Roman Nowicki spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Skiles in Indianapolis, Ind.
The wind storm Saturday caused considerable damage in Lincolnwood. A tree fell across the wires leading to the Salvato home, crippling all their utilities. It also blew over two of the newly erected brick walls at Mil-Bae farm. This was regrettable, but the Miller's, who are conscientious hard-working people will have this licked in no time.

Walter Thode has started his three weeks vacation. Lucky man! He says he is working hard around here than when at his job in Chicago, but it's swell to be putting around in the open and enjoying the fresh air.

Mrs. Rose Rabiega and son, Lawrence, drove to Chicago Sunday afternoon to visit her daughter and his sister, Mrs. Edw. Starsine, who recently returned home from St. Anthony's hospital where she underwent surgery. She is getting along fine and expects to come to Lincolnwood to stay with her mother for several weeks to convalesce. Mrs. Edw. Neuhaus and Mrs. Wallace Winslow and two small sons, sister and niece of Mrs. Walter Thode of Melrose Park, spent last Wednesday with Mrs. Thode. Miss Eva Hauldron of Lake Forest visited with Miss Louise Thode, over the weekend. A much loved pet of one of our neighbors was wounded Saturday evening when a shot gun was fired at him. He was taken to Dr. Geo. Lengerich, veterinarian in Mokena for first aid and Lawrence, drove to Chicago Sun-

Salvation Army Camp Opens July 8 For Needy Mothers

More than 200 mothers and children will leave Chicago July 8 for nine days of vacation fun at Camp Wonderland. The Salvation Army's summer camp located six miles northwest of Antioch.

The group is the first of approximately 900 mothers and children who will be guests at the camp this year.

This summer marks Camp Wonderland's thirtieth season. The present 70 acre rolling woodland site was acquired in 1924. Summer vacations for needy mothers and children have been provided by The Salvation Army since the establishment of its first fresh air camp at Glen Ellyn in 1904.

Eighty-five buildings, including a new handicrafts shop, the Shagbark section—are scattered over the camp area. Comfortable cabins accommodate 15 to 20 persons each. Colorful formal gardens are surrounded by long stretches of well kept lawns.

Campers may go swimming, boating and fishing in Center Lake, a quarter of a mile wide and a mile and a half long. The recreational program also includes group games, hikes, picnics and classes in swimming, handicrafts and nature study. A large well equipped playground is available, as well as a fine baseball diamond.

A modern nursery helps mothers in caring for their infants and toddlers. A trained nurse is in charge, and supervises the preparation of individual formulas. Infants may be left in the nursery, and toddlers in the special nursery play yard so that mothers can participate in camp recreational activities.

The 52 day camping season began June 29 with the arrival of some 200 golden agers—men and women ranging in age from 60 to 89 years—for a nine day vacation.

From July 6-13 approximately 125 Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts from The Salvation Army's Scandinavian department will camp at Shagbark, the section of Wonderland designed especially for them.

Before going to camp, each guest has a thorough physical examination at the Salvation Army's clinics at 426 W. Wisconsin st. and 3053 Normal ave.

Guests at Camp Wonderland are, chosen by the Salvation

Army's family service department on the basis of need for a vacation, without distinction as to color or creed. Referrals are accepted from other Salvation Army departments and from the city's other social agencies. Nineteen agencies will be well represented during this summer's camping season.

Lt. Col. Earl Crawford, welfare secretary, is director of Camp Wonderland.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Bad Case of the "Ztutters"

Our copyboy is out sick. So the editor (me) is taking over some of his chores—which include running the addressing machine on "mailing-out night."

Last week I didn't have the usual number of papers left over for sale at the office. Couldn't figure what had happened—until Chub Zimmer called to ask why he'd gotten 56 copies.

Then I realized—"Zimmer" is the last name the machine prints. Guess I forgot to turn it off... and it just kept grinding out Chub's name on all the remaining copies. That machine just didn't know when to stop.

From where I sit, people are like that sometimes. They often don't know when to stop. Like those who are prejudiced against someone with an accent, perhaps... or against someone who likes a cool bottle of beer with his supper. So, in these columns I try to persuade everyone to "throw the switch" on prejudice so it won't get repeated.
